Leadership Transition at HomeShare Oregon, and New Executive Director Search

HSO announces search for new Executive Director

Portland, Oregon – HomeShare Oregon, a leading nonprofit focused on expanding access to affordable housing through homesharing, is announcing it is hiring a new Executive Director in Oregon. Founder and Executive Director Tess Fields will be leaving HomeShare Oregon to establish HomeShare America Foundation, a new national organization focused on expanding access to affordable housing through homesharing nationwide.

Under her leadership HomeShare Oregon has been recognized for its impact on providing affordable housing options in 33 counties in Oregon, and has become one of the top homesharing organizations in the United States.

Ms. Fields states, "We are in the middle of a humanitarian crisis because of the lack of affordable housing options across the nation. We've done great work in HomeShare Oregon, and I look forward to expanding, and creating affordable housing inventory on a national scale through the home share organizational model."

HomeShare Oregon remains committed to its mission of creating affordable and environmentally sustainable housing solutions in Oregon that strengthens our local communities through homesharing. The Board of Directors have initiated a search for a new Executive Director to continue the organization's work. The Board has retained Nonprofit Professionals Now to perform the search, and more information can be found at <https://bit.ly/HSO-ED>.
